BISHOP STARS CONFERENCE BY RESIGNING HIS OFFICE.

James R. Day, After Being Elected to Episcopacy of M. E. Church, Announces That His Conscience Will Not Allow Him to Accept Honor—Delegates Are Taken by Surprise—But One Other Such Case in History of Church, That of Joshua Soles, Who Declined to Take High Office in 1820.

FACULTY OF SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY IS VERY MUCH PLEASED.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 23.—The most sensational incident of the Methodist General Conference occurred this morning in the resignation of Bishop James R. Day of Syracuse, N. Y. His resignation was accepted by the conference.

The conference then voted to indefinitely postpone the election of a successor to Bishop Day on the Episcopal Board, and this action was taken to mean that there will be no balloting for an eighth bishop by the conference, and that the board will remain as at present constituted.

In resigning, Bishop Day asked permission of the conference to retire from further attendance. The resignation came as a profound surprise to everyone except a few friends, with whom Bishop Day had consulted regarding his determination, and his statement which preceded his action was listened to by the delegates and crowded galleries with intense interest.

When Bishop Foss, who was presiding, asked the conference to hear a statement from Bishop-elect Day, as a matter of personal privilege, the assembly appeared to divine that something out of the usual was about to happen, and immediately granted permission. Bishop Day, who occupied a seat among the Bishops on the platform, came to the front of the speakers' stand, and in a tense and impressive tone of voice began his statement.

"I do not believe," said Bishop Day, "that any man in the conference will charge me with disloyalty to my conscience and to my God. I believe that everyone will concede that I am actuated by honest motives, and that I am fulfilling my duty, in taking the action I am about to take. I wish to make it clear that there has been no coercion by the Board of Trustees of my university, and that material considerations did not in any way enter into this matter. I am acting only on the basis of my own conscience, and have arrived at a conclusion only after two days of earnest and prayerful consideration."

"When I came to this General Conference, I determined to keep my mind open, and to let the conference decide for me. I have not been coerced, and I have not been influenced by any material considerations. There are new factors in my situation."

"I am not influenced by material considerations. There are new factors in my situation. I am not influenced by material considerations. There are new factors in my situation. I am not influenced by material considerations. There are new factors in my situation."

MAYOR DISLIKES MUSHROOM STORES
One-Story Buildings on Market Street, Opposite City Hall, Spoil Outlook From His Office.

Mayor Wells and other city officials are outraged at the presence of what are termed "mushroom" houses, a row of five one-story brick stores, which have sprung up opposite the Market street entrance of the City Hall.

When Mayor Wells arrived at the City Hall yesterday there was nothing that attracted his attention particularly. When the Mayor gazed out of his office window his attention was called to the row of brick structures. "Where did they come from?" he asked himself.

Falling to solve the problem, Mayor Wells summoned Building Commissioner Heimbauer. The Building Commissioner admitted that the stores were built by the city, and that he had no objection to their being there.

The discovery tried the Mayor sorely. Recently 20,000 plants were set out on the Market street front, and the contrast which the recently erected buildings make with the old buildings is very striking.

The Mayor's discovery of the stores was a surprise to him. He had no idea that they were there. He had no idea that they were there. He had no idea that they were there.
